

TIME

ISSUE DATE:

February 13, 2012

EDITORIAL
HIGHLIGHT

In this issue:-

FEATURES

- Keeping Wall Street Honest – U.S. Attorney Preet Bharara is watching—and listening
- The Splintering Conservative Base – The identity crisis isn't easily resolved
- What Now, Newt? – Gingrich may be down, but he's nowhere near out
- The Timeline of Your Life – Facebook is reorganizing the way you present yourself online
- India's Generation '91 – How economic reforms launched just over 20 years ago have impacted the youth of India
- The People's Prose – China's online-publishing boom has given the world's most populous nation a truly populist literature

THE CULTURE

- Exhibitions – A new show takes non-Muslims inside the hajj
- Art – David Shrigley's tragicomic world
- Books – The surprising story of cooking during China's Cultural Revolution
- Travel – London's hottest chefs' collective; Vietnam's mountain getaway; the Grenadines' unwired retreat

-
- Essay – The desperate struggle to tell the truth about Syria's unrest
 - 10 Questions – Economist, author and terrorism-financing expert Loretta Napoleoni

TIME